

The King of the Things

Some have their fingers where you have your nose. And some have their nose where you have your toes. Some have their toes where you have your tongue, and some have their tongues where you have your legs. Some have their legs where you have your neck. And some don't. Some have ten necks, and some have no neck at all. Some have one head, just like you, but then others have two. Or three heads, or ten. Some their heads bubble up like welts from tiny spots til they are more like balloons, with eyes and noses, mouths and maybe arms or legs growing from them. Then the heads pop like acne, before growing back again.

What does your 'Thing' look like? Draw it below. How scary or horrid can you make it? Email it to info@mogzillabooks.co.uk and Adrian may show it during his Pirates broadcast next week!

My Thing

Extract from 'The King of the Things' by Adrian Beckingham. ISBN: 9781906132507
available from <https://mogzillabooks.ecwid.com/>

MØGZILLA